Thanks is extended to the Weland Town and Country Garden Club for the beautiful plants which were given to beautify the grounds of the Weland Baptist Mission.

Last week a committee of ladies, Mrs. Mathis, M. Ruppel, W. M. Bozeman and Travis Bozeman planted the greens and shrubs. Mrs. A. Mathis drove the ladies to the nursery to select the plants. Mrs. Bozeman donated two azaleas. Altogether, seven azaleas, six susanums and two Japanese Yew trees were planted. This most generous gesture on the part of the club is deeply appreciated by the church.

Mrs. Ruth Ketchum, Miss Clara Lee Ketchum, Mrs. M. Ruppel, Miss Betty Hartfield and Philip Seal attended the Shrine Circus in New Orleans Saturday. While in the city, the group visited Mrs. Ketchum's sister, Miss Esther Kirsch.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Bozeman, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Bozeman and children left Friday for a trip to Little Rock, Arkansas. They had a most enjoyable motor trip, visited friends, and returned safely on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gipson spent a few days in New Orleans visiting their children and friends. Frankie Gipson, age three, returned with his grandparents and plans to visit with them for a few days.

Mrs. Hamilton Guenard spent Tuesday in New Orleans on a business trip.

Mrs. Roger Bordages spent Tuesday in New Orleans.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cole of New Orleans spent the Thanksgiving holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hayes. Mrs. Cole is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hayes.

Mrs. Ruth Wolfe and Mrs. Ernest

Wolfe went to New Orleans Wednesday to do some shopping.

The latest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zimmerman was christened on Thanksgiving Day at 10 a.m. in St. Charles Catholic Church. She was named Collette Claire Zimmerman. Godparents were Miss Shirley Turcott and Mr. Edward Zimmerman. Following the ceremony in the church the family and friends had a meal together at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bourgeois where they celebrated the occasion. Ice cream and cake were served and the young lady enjoyed happiness, success and health in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Brockman Sr. motored to Laurel Saturday to spend the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ott Brockman and children.

Mrs. Roger Bordages and Mrs. Ruth Meilleur attended the John worship at Bay St. Louis on Wednesday evening. Members of the Baptist, Methodist, and Episcopalian churches attended. Brother Baton and Schultz and Rev. Johnson conducted the services.

Little Theatre To Present Two Plays for Members

BY JOHANN CRAFT

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre concludes its 1953 Season with two dramatic offerings for the MEMBER-SHIPS ONLY. On Wednesday evening December 16th at 8:30 P.M., the Little Theatre will present "The Stranger" by A. Strindberg and the delightful comedy, "Suppressed Desire" by Susan Glaspell.

Strindberg's plays are noted for the discussions they create. Some audiences enjoy them thoroughly, while others can't quite make up their minds.

Since "Mr. Rene" began active work in his father's drug store at the age of thirteen, this birthday marks his seventy-fifth year in the service of his community.

OBSERVES 88 BIRTHDAY

Rene deMontigny Sr. celebrated his eighty-eighth birthday at his home Wednesday. During the day he received numerous congratulatory cards and telephone calls from out-of-town friends and relatives as well as many good wishes from local friends.

Since "Mr. Rene" began active work in his father's drug store at the age of thirteen, this birthday marks his seventy-fifth year in the service of his community.

Announce Engagement

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Garcia of Weland announce the engagement of their daughter, Frances Garcia, to Elvin Joseph Saucier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Saucier of Pineville. The wedding will take place Dec. 16 at Our Lady of the Gulf Catholic Church.

OCTOBER OIL DRILLING UNUSUALLY PRODUCTIVE

October was an unusually "lucky" and profitable month for the companies drilling for oil and gas in Mississippi. It was a correspondingly "good" month for Mississippi's development as an oil producing state.

October's record isn't likely to be equalled again this year but it may be beaten by another month in the near future. It supports the confident belief that oil and gas development is in its comparative infancy in Mississippi that many fields are yet to be discovered in practically all parts of the state.

The Bay St. Louis Little Theatre feels confident that the membership will not have any trouble enjoying "The Stranger" thoroughly.

Directed by Adeline Samuel, veteran director of many fine Little Theatre productions, with Vicki Lennox Hill and Marie Louise Blair in the cast, a fine production is assured.

This play may be classified as a monologue, as it is Vicki Hill who plays the part of the outraged wife, with Marie Louise Blair supporting.

Susan Glaspell's comedy "Suppressed Desire" brings a newcomer to the Little Theatre stage, Audrey Hansis, who has participated in many of the dramatic productions of the Gulfport Little Theatre. Adding much to the play is an old favorite, Alvin Weinert. It has been said and has been proved many times, that Al needs just his presence to highlight a comedy. In this play he is ready to give his "All" to this one act play, his first in several seasons.

Also in the play is Elsie Grant, who played the maid in the recent play, "Blithe Spirit."

Christmas carols will be sung by Vicki Hill and Philip Allison. As a finale, the membership will be invited to join in the chorus.

A coffee hour will be held during the intermission, served in the lobby of the Little Theatre.

little one. She has a good attitude, but she is very serious and independent. Her hobbies include dancing, swimming, all kinds of outdoor activities, and playing cards.

Amie holds a "B" average in classes and is a regular guest of the Honor Roll. During the year she plans to study oil painting, drawing, and music. When she is not at school, Amie likes to go to the beach, swim, and play cards. With her friendly ways and bubbly nature she never fails to capture one's heart.

Frankie holds the distinguished offices of Senior Class President and Social Secretary. She is the second Vice-President for S.C.C. and her third for S.A.

She is an "A" pupil in her class-work and a typist for the Sea Spruce, and she does extremely well in writing, singing, and composing songs for the Senior Class.

Of her favorite hobbies she rates basketball tops, and also enjoys dancing, swimming, and picnics.

Frankie has no definite plans in sight for the future other than entering Gulf Park College to study business and eventually to marry and settle down in Gulfport with the large family the plans to have.

The new rulers in colorful ceremony. President Humphrey Kershaw was proxy for King Gregory Favre. Queen Alice Dupuis was crowned the new Queen of the Youth Center.

Larry Vega's Orchestra played "Make Believe," theme of the ball, during the ceremony. Christopher Bell was Master of Ceremonies.

The Queen was radiant in a dress of blue. The dress had a brocade backless top with matching blue net skirt. The Queen's underskirt was light blue taffeta with silver stars around the bottom. She wore net gloves with silver stars bordering the ruffles. Her crown was of white carnations and a blue star in the center. Around her scepter were yellow carnations winding around like a climbing vine.

The Christmas Dance is the next

Millie Adam also was pretty as a picture in her dress of white taffeta, trimmed in green velvet top and green and white net skirt.

Jane Favre was decked out in a light blue 'net' stripes, with silver sequins sprinkled over the dress.

The King wore a tuxedo. Henry and Bobby, Dukes, were handsome in dark blue suits.

The Youth Center was decorated on the theme of "Make Believe." Cutouts of horses were placed about the walls. A horse seven feet long, jumping over pink, floating clouds, was suspended behind the Throne. From the center of the ceiling hung pink and black horses in a merry-go-round effect. Other decorations consisted of pink and black crepe paper.

Millie Adam will be hostess at the Youth Center. The Selections will be made for the Christmas Dance will be made.

Last week the Youth Center got two new radios for its radio box. Every two weeks they have a show of new records to choose the title. "Dancing in the Dark," "Visions," "White Christmas," and "Whispering Hope" are included in the new selections.

Perry Shadley, a member of S.C.C., Class 33, winner of the contest, Bill McDonald.

Alice Dupuis was seen at the Star Theatre Sunday night with Bill Stricklin. She dates Bill exclusively these days.

Alton Parrelli was a week end guest of Patty Favre and her parents.

The Delta Sigma Chi Society held a meeting Tuesday night at Patty Favre's home on Union Street.

Hay Hi's boys' and girls' basketball teams have been practicing lately. It looks as if they will have a promising team this year. Good luck.

the world, we have been given the opportunity to serve God and our fellow man. We have been given the opportunity to help others, to bring them closer to God, to help them to grow in their faith, to help them to live a more Christian life.

Those who may become Christians and who are with the spirit of God, will find even Santa Claus manifested in the heart of Christ. Those who are saved, but they may have lost a sense of living-kindness, those who have grown old, a loss of love to him who said, "I have loved thee with everlasting love; therefore with loving-kindness have I loved thee."

Well may we know that every child on earth is invited to attend the birthday festival of Jesus that we celebrate at Christmas. In the heart of the Christ there is a gift and a blessing for every child, and we, who call ourselves "grown-ups," are the channels that He often uses in dispensing His gifts and blessings.

There is no shortage of gifts, no lack of substance, no deficiency of love and faith, in the heart or the kingdom of Christ. As we follow the holy trail of Christ love that leads to the heart of Christmas, a new radiance fills our hearts, and a new path quickens us. We leave the darkness and trackless desert behind us, as did the Wise Men who followed the Star to the place where the Christ child lay. Like them we come to worship Him, to offer our gifts to Him, and so, we find that Christ is born again in us.

He who beholds the true glory of Christmas, who sees the manifold works of love fulfilled at this time, comes to a place of inner quietness where the gift of peace that He comes to give can make itself known, and of inner devotion where His love can make itself felt.

Christmas began with the birth of a child, and it will always be associated with little children. What fitting tribute can be paid to

POPULARITY OF NATCHEZ TRACE REVEALED IN FIRST ROAD CHECK

The growing popularity of the historic Natchez Trace Parkway which has been traveled successfully by Indians, Indians, early pioneers, soldiers, and modern travelers for more than two centuries is today making this scenic route one of the state's most frequented attractions.

During the first nine months of 1953 a total of 342,209 automobiles carrying 1,034,119 persons have traveled over the 64 miles of paved roadway in Mississippi, only hard-surfaced section of the 450-mile route between Natchez and Nashville. Chances are that these figures will be substantially increased by the end of the year.

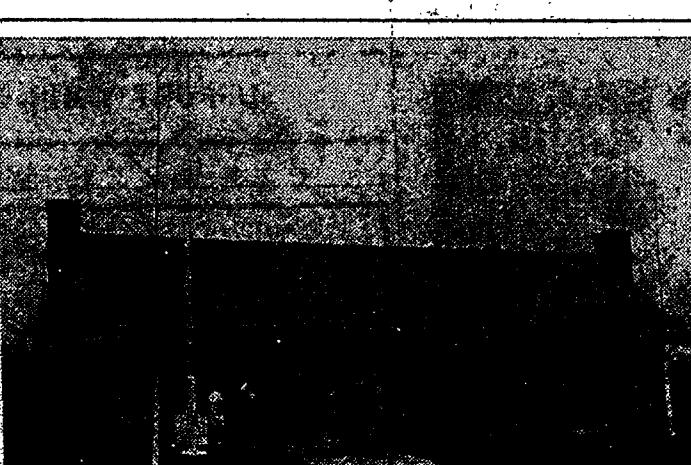

This heavy volume of traffic over an uncompleted road is considered significant in view of the fact that the Parkway is closed to commercial vehicles and does not provide a through route to any point not already served. It also exceeds the volume of traffic on many of the state's highways.

Actual work on the Parkway was started back in 1937, but was halted by World War II. At that time 105 miles of grading and minor drainage had been completed since the War, the remaining strip of paving had been completed between Hindsland and Kosciusko. Since then, nature trails and markers have been provided, and the descriptive information office at Natchez has been opened at the junction end of the Trace just west of U.S. Highway 61.

Responsibility for care has been assumed by 91 miles of park rights-of-way and has conveyed 17 miles to the National Government. New sections have practically been completed in the areas located in the northern part of the state.

At present, the Trace is open from Natchez to the Tennessee River, and from the river to the Kentucky border. The southern portion of the Trace, from the Kentucky border to the Tennessee River, is still under construction.

Plans are now being made to extend the Trace northward to the Ohio River, and to the Mississippi River, and to the Tennessee River, and to the Kentucky border.

Visitors entering the Natchez Trace Parkway off U.S. Highway 51 at Hindsland, just north of Jackson, may secure literature, information, and study historical relics at the museum of the National Park Service shown above.

By treaty with the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians, the United States acquired the right to develop the Natchez Trace into a wagon-road and mail route in the early 1800's. But for many years the journey over the Trace remained a hard and perilous one—due not so much to the Red Man as to the blood-thirsty bandits who found easy pickings on the wilderness trail. Lafayette, New Orleans, Andrew Jackson, Henry Clay and many others well known figures of history.

Work on the road began late in 1801. Whether the troops actually cleared all the road from Duck River Ridge, 50 miles south of Nashville, to Grindstone Ford near Fort Gibson, is not known. Increased traffic after the Mexican War in 1847 called for improvement. In 1860, when the rebels practically cut the Trace off, the Federals repaired the road, and additional improvements were made under the direction of the Postmaster General.

In 1899, the Trace became a federal highway and vital segment of the American experience. The Indians, the explorers, the fur-traders, the hunters were followed by Kentucky business men, the cotton planters, the freedmen, soldiers, and the Negroes, and finally the tourists.

Today, the Trace is a major highway, and the most popular tourist route in the South. It is a great highway, and the most popular tourist route in the South.

Give the Gift that grows with him

Of course he'll receive all of the toys and games and bright shiny things that spin, sparkle and tinkle. The things that make Christmas such a fairyland of excitement when you're young.

But this Christmas give him a practical gift, too. A gift that will grow with him and become more and more important each year passing year. Stop in at the bank today...and invest in a U. S. Savings Bond for him!

When he has grown into a young man with responsibilities and a practical sense of values—he'll appreciate your Bond gift. And remember the thoughtfulness and foresight with which you gave it. So give the gift that grows with him—an interest-earning Bond.

Give yourself a Christmas gift, too. If you haven't found a successful way of saving money for the future—begin this Christmas with a regular, systematic savings plan of your own. Join the Bond-A-Month Plan here, where you bank.

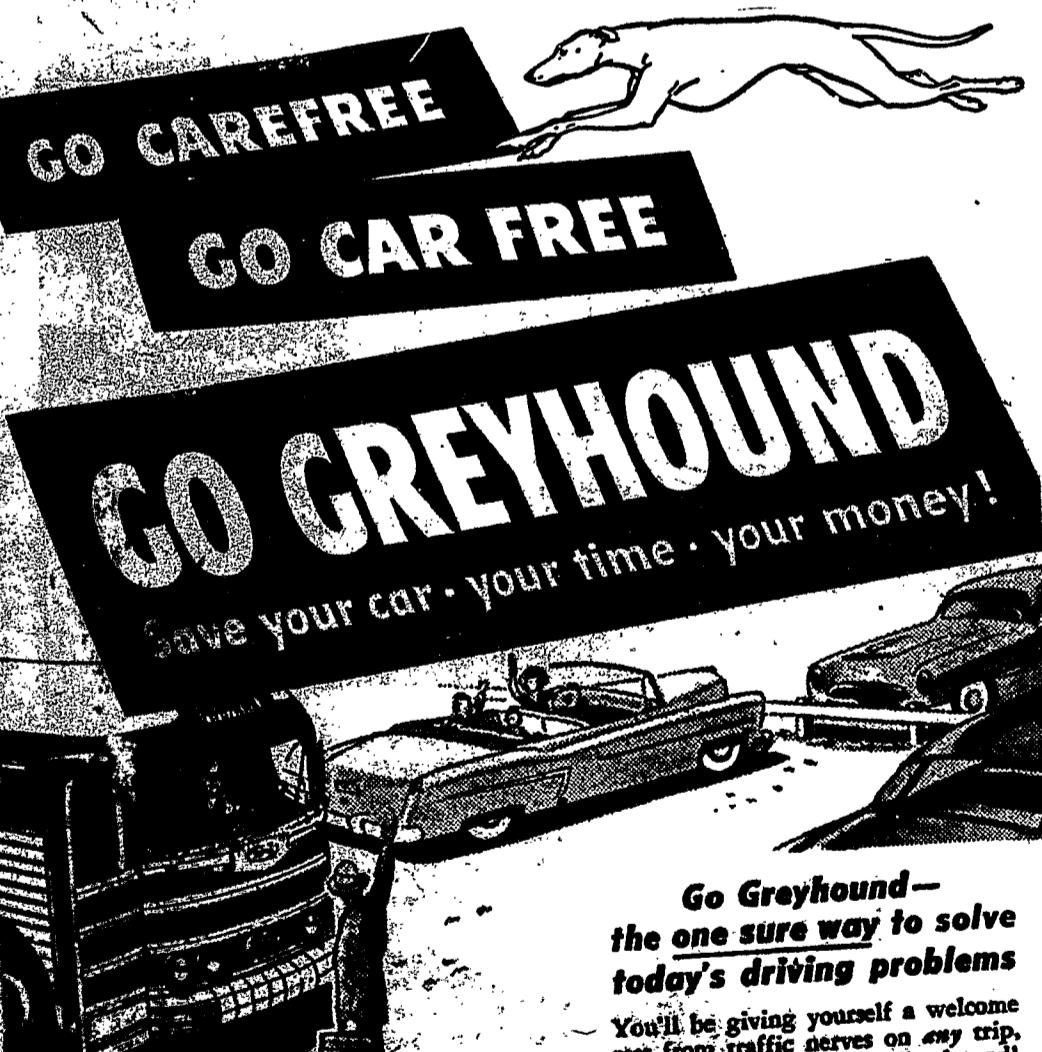

Just authorize us, and we will automatically issue a Bond in your name each month. Charging the amount of the Bond to your checking account, and delivering the Bond to you. Come in today and let us tell you about the many other saving and banking services we can give you, too.

Give the Gift of security—with U.S. Savings Bonds!

First Annual Thanksgiving

Dinner at Dr. Irwin's

Dr. Irvin, a local physician, suggested that they have a Thanksgiving dinner for the members of the American Legion Auxiliary. The veterans' annual gift shop will open Tuesday, December 4, through Dec. 10. Gifts are now being accepted by the Auxiliary. The shop will be open to the public on Dec. 11. The veterans' shop is entitled to a Christmas gift for his wife, parents and children, the Auxiliary explained. Ambulatory patients come into the shop to make their selections while those bedridden have gifts sent to them by Auxiliary volunteers.

The gifts are wrapped privately by Auxiliary volunteers, women and men, to the patients' families.

Auxiliary members who are interested in assisting in this program are asked to call Mrs. Calhoun Ladue or Mrs. John Rutherford Jr. for transportation.

The Veterans' Gift Shop is regarded by the Auxiliary as one of its most important projects of the year.

Biloxi C. of C. Host to Coast Council Recently

The Biloxi Chamber of Commerce was host to the Mississippi Coast Council on November 25, beginning at 3 p.m. The group was taken by bus on a conducted tour of Keesler Air Force Base which included some very interesting talks and demonstrations of electronic and radar equipment followed by a cocktail party in the officers club.

The dinner meeting was held at Hotel Biloxi at 7:30 p.m. Guests attending from the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce were Mr. and Mrs. Lambert T. Boyd Jr., Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Schaffir, O. W. Delph, Ben T. Hille and H. W. LeTisier.

R. P. CURET DIES HERE NOV. 29

Rudolph Patrick Curet, Picayune and Kiln, died Sunday morning, Nov. 29, at 11:45 o'clock at King's Daughters Hospital.

Funeral Services were held Monday morning at 9:00 from Fahey Funeral Parlors, followed by religious services at Annunciation Church, Kiln, Miss. Father Charles Tangue officiating. Interment was in Bayou Coco Cemetery, Kiln.

The deceased, who was in his 64th year, is survived by two brothers, Harry Curet, Bay St. Louis, Eugene Curet, Picayune, and one sister, Mrs. Fred Negrotta, New Orleans.

Injured In Wreck Near Kiln
Richard Cameron suffered injuries when the car he was driving was wrecked early Sunday morning at Kiln. Cameron, a resident of Picayune, was rushed to Memorial Hospital, Gulfport.

The state of Nebraska produced 97,695,000 bushels of wheat last year, more than in any other single year in its history. The corn harvest in the state of 261,960,000 bushels, maintained the high levels attained in recent years but increased operating costs resulted in a slight dip in rural income from 1951 in the state.

SENIORS RECEIVE RINGS from Monsignor Gmelch at ceremony in Our Lady of the Gulf Church.

It was a day of joy and happiness for the Senior Class of S.J.A. on Friday, November 20, as this was the day the girls were to receive their long awaited Senior rings.

The ceremony took place at Our Lady of the Gulf Church, at which the entire school was present including parents and friends. The Seniors, wearing the white graduation gowns and white caps, formed a single line and entered the church to the music of Professor Hemmabach. In their places they joined in to sing the "Ave Maria," and Monsignor A. J. Gmelch proceeded to give a short talk concerning the significance of the ring ceremony.

Monsignor explained how the ring is a symbol of allegiance and a "link" or bond between the girls and the school from which they receive it. It should act as a reminder of the duties and loyalty one owes to her Alma Mater. Following his talk, Monsignor blessed the rings and the entire class approached the altar to receive them.

Monsignor Gmelch held Benediction, and as a conclusion to the ceremony, the class sang the hymn, "Holy God We Praise Thy Name."

The Senior ring, which has been standard for 10 years, centers a red garnet with the school shield. In the center of the shield is the "S.J." and the lily set in black; surrounding this is the name "St. Joseph Academy" printed in gold, and to the left and right is printed the year, 1954.

The Seniors receiving rings at the ceremony were: Mildred Adams, Robert Bermond, Marianne Blanchard, Gayle Brechtel, Shirley Burleigh, Carol Cabell, Claire Cameron, Rose Marie Cuevas, Carolyn Curet, Marie Therese del Carmen, Victoria del Carmen, Gayle Drury, Alyce Dupquier, Patricia Favre, Marlene Favre, Barbara Flink, Frances Heves, Suzanne Holcombe, Ann Hubbard, Mary Rose LaBruzzi, Diane Loup, Chechy Morales, Marie Morgan, Dolores Olavarrieta, Lucia Ortega, Bonnie Rapier, Rebecca Rodriguez and Betty Whitaker.
